Peking. Nov. 10, 2.52 a. m.—Peking is the consul sends reports that the situation is critical. The road between I-Chang and Chung King is unsafe and there is danger from robber bands.

Rebels Have Two Factions.

At American who is in close touch with the Tien Tsin rebls, says that the At American who is in close touch with the Tien Tsin rebls, says that the rebels are divided into two factions. The conservative faction will probably combine and wait until there is a material force behind them before taking over the city. At the present time only 2,500 police within the city support the rebels.

Active preparations for what is con-idered the inevitable assault on the apital are going on within the lega-ion quarter, for it is now conceded hat the Manchu dynasty will be oust-d from power. Foreigners, it is as-eried, will be fully protected, but ex-erience has taught that the temper f the people is not to be trusted when evolutionary movements are in progperience has taught that the temper of the people is not to be trusted when revolutionary movements are in progress.

The fact that Tien Tsin did not fail yesterday, as was expected, was a hopeful sign, because it indicates that whatever steps the revolutionaries are taking in the north they are at least proceeding along careful lines and acting with consideration and without haste. While reinforcements have permeted been received of numerous defections among the Nauchu seldiers to the rebel side. The government troops are an uncertain ment's order but not at General Chang's. A threatening letter referring to such incidents as not neutral has been received by the consular body at Tien Tsin. The Peking-Hankow railway officials likewise are pro-Manchu.

COTTON CORNER CASE

IN SUPREME COURT.

Boston, Nov. 9.—The general public will have to pay the increased cost of labor if the state passes a law providing a minimum wage for saleswomen, according to D. B. Strickland of a Boston department store, who appeared today before the special legislative commission appointed to consider the commission. President O'Sullivan of the Re all Clerks' Protective association expressed the opinion that the average wage of female employes did not exceed $7 a week for those over 18 years, and were not over $4 a week for those under that age. He wanted a bill fixing the minimum of all such employes at not less than $9 a week.

Woman Now Being Held by Chicago Police on Suspicion of Having Killed Last Husband-Damaging Testimony

Stepson Tells of Three Marriages. Elmer Thorpe, stepson by the woman's second marriage, told of three marriages he knew she contracted, though in her testimony she acknowledged only two. He said that he suspected Mrs. Quinn, then Mrs. Thorp, of having killed his father. Quinn was shot while arranging to deed his 160-acre farm to Elmer. Mrs. Quinn and a daughter were held in custody after Thorp's death but were released. Wed 35 Days After Husband's Death Mrs. Quinn's maiden name was Jane Taylor and she came from London, Ont. Her first husband was John McDonaid, who died in 1901 from supposedly natural causes. Thirty-five days after his death she married Thorpe, who was shot and killed 17 months afterward. She married John Quinn in Kalamazoo, Mich., in 1906.

Thorpe Shot in Bed.

Examination of Mrs. Quinn the following day led to her being asked to reveal her past life. She did this, but, according to the police, told of her first marriage to a man named McDonald and neglected to tell them of her second marriage to Warren Thorpe in Jackson, Mich. This fact led the police to Jackson where they learned that Thorpe, too, had been shot and killed while asleep in bed. They learned also that his mother, who lived with him, had died under circumstances that have not been explained.

In the Thorpe death, the police de-clare that they have learned that Mrs. Thorpe, now Mrs. Quinn, insisted her husband had been shot to death by burglars. Mrs. Thorpe was arrested at the time, but the police were never able to clear up the mystery and she was finally freed.

Boarder Missed Revolver. A revolver of an old pattern was found in the house, according to the police. It was identified by J. W. Miller, a boarder in the Quinn house, as one he had owned for several years and which disappeared from a drawer in his room the day before Quinn was about Barbarous Killing of Wounded.

"Our scouts on the field where encounters of the 5th and 7th took piace between the 93d regiment of Italian infantry and the Turks and Arabs have ascertained that acts of cruelty have been committed upon our fallen. One of the two dead was found barbarously decapitated. No doubt exists that in these encounters the Turks were present, and for this reason they are directly responsible. Rumors, whose foundation it was not possible to ascertain, were heard regarding barbarous killing of Italians fallen on the field, while they were still alive, and of prisoners.

"It was ascertained the Arabs di-rected the fire and the attacks against the ambulances and Iransports of the wounded, but it was still uncertain if only the Arabs were to blame for it, or if the Turks should also have been declared outlawed for violation of war regulations.

Spies Hanged Without Trial. "Now the doubt does not exist any more, because it has ben ascertained in a most absolute way that on the battlefield of Ain Zar the Turkish commander, in violation of article 30 of the last convention, ordered and had hanged, without any trial, our informants and some Arabs who were ants and some Arabs who were sus-pected of spying. There is indisput-able evidence of violations of the arti-cles of war on the part of the Arabs, who were called and directed by Turk-ish officials agains the Italians."

VIOLENCE BY STRIKING

New York, Nov. 3 .- Street Commis-Mrs. Quinn's Mother and First Husband Died Suddenly.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 9.—Mrs John M. Quinn, who is under arrest in Chicago, formerly conducted a boarding house here while her husband was employed by the street railway company. Before coming here in 1903 she resided in Blackman township, Jackson county, having married Walter Thorpe, who was later found dead at Jackson with a bullet hole through his head.

Information obtained here is to the effect that the woman found dead in bed in the home of the Thorpes at Jackson was Mrs. Quinn's mother, Mrs. James Taylor. It is said that Mrs. Taylor's death was never fully explained.

New York, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Sioner William Edwards sought today to break the strike declared by over 2,500 striking garbage collectors, but was worsted. With thirty strike-breakers he tried to move some of the garbage carts which have remained id idio since last night because the men refuse to do night work, and notwithstanding they were heavily guarded by police, they met with riotous freatment by, strikers or their sympathizers. In front of one stable, a shower of bricks and other misseles was thrown from nearby roofs, some of the assailants being women. Four policement were knocked down and other were knocked down and other were knocked down and others were slightly hurt, and the strike breakers were put to rout. Edwards sent appeals tonight to the loyalty of his force of 2,500 street sweepers and sent offers of jobs as cart drivers to more than 5,000 laborcart drivers to more than 5,000 laborers on the civil service waiting list. He said he would have 100 policemen on guard at each of the 25 stables tomorrow and an effort would again be made to move garbage which is accumulating rapidly on all the city's streets. Edwards suggested the menace which much delay in removing the garbage would entail, but the weather holding coot and with brisk winds, there is yet no great danger, Edwards said.
